

The Qualitative Education of Personnel - The Key to the Competitiveness of Transport Companies

Natalia Sestenco-Diacek, Nina Garstea, Galina Voloscenco

Abstract

The article examines the relationship between the competence of human resources and the competitiveness of a transport company. At the present stage of economic development, when science and technology are improving, the role of personnel has a huge impact on most of the competitiveness of a transport company. Even those internal factors that, at first glance, have nothing to do with personnel training, being analyzed in detail, have a component that depends on human education.

SESTENCO-DIACEK N, GARSTEA N., VOLOSCENCO N. The Qualitative Education of Personnel - The Key to the Competitiveness of Transport Companies. În: The XXXI-st SIAR International Congress of Automotive and Transport Engineering "Automotive and Integrated Transport Systems - AITS 2021". ISBN 978-9975-45-782-8